September, 2020

As you can see we have a new Chum Line. Just some changes to hopefully enhance your reading pleasure. A couple of new features include hyperlinks so that you can get more current information and a couple of educational articles along with a recipe or two.

The Annual Classic was a huge success with the hard work of Rita Waddell and Dana Syens. We had 120 anglers compete for $5,000 in prize money. The final tally has not been determined as of this writing but the Disabled American Veterans should be Another new item in this issue will be a Tournament Director Report the head of the committee, Tim Miller. Results of this months tournament and future plans of the next tournament will be covered in his article.

The Weigh Master will report on fishing trends and the current leaders of the Year Long Tournament. Chuck Radloff, who is our Weigh Master, will provide a link to allow you to run reports from our database to see where you stand in the rankings. This database will be updated after we collect all weigh slips and enter them so make sure you try this link out after you receive the Chum Line as they will be updated. Chuck will also report the changing FWC and NOAA rules as they come out and advise us on any changes that have occurred or are about to.

Lastly, our club's annual sponsors are listed throughout The Chum Line so make sure you patronize them as without them our club would not be as successful as it is today.

The Annual Classic

The Annual Classic Fishing Tournament was held on Aug 21st and 22nd after being rescheduled from the spring due to Covid-19 and was a huge success for the Fishing Club and for the Disabled American Veterans (DAV). The chair persons for this event were Dana Syens and Rita Waddell and they were assisted by the Flagler Sportfishing Club members as its takes a large team to put an event this size on every year. The weekend event started with a Captains Meeting and Silent Auction held at the Social Club of Palm Coast. Many auction items were on display and the bidding was fierce for Coral artwork from Ocean Gardens in Islamorada, FL and 5 fishing charters from our local Captains. Many anglers registered that night and picked up their buckets and shirts with a total of 120 anglers to compete.

The next day was blazing hot and the competition was just as hot. Redfish, Trout and Flounder were being brought into Hidden Treasure in Flagler Beach and Coastal Conservation Association (CCA) was on hand to capture the live fish for quick release back into our local habitat. The weigh-in ended at 2.30 PM and while the officials tallied the weights and fish, raffle winners being drawn.

The winners were:

Redfish – Mike Vickers, Sr

Trout – Devon Spicer

Flounder – Joe Sciarra

Spots – Mike Vickers, Jr (4)

September Fishing Report

by Captain Jim Britton

Fall is finally here! As the heat index finally drops away from 100 degrees, the month of September provides two noticeable events which will influence inshore and surf fishing-the fall mullet run and flood tides.

As the mullet run begins, anglers will find bluefish and spanish mackerel in the inlets and following the large schools in the surf. Target these toothy fish with a well constructed artificial, such as a Gotcha plug or a suspending Mirrolure. A live mullet on a fish finder rig, fished from the pier or in a beach run out, will be the key to landing nice sized flounder and redfish. Pompano can still be found in the surf, as well, by using sand fleas or a small piece of Fishbites artificial bait.

The fall mullet run will get many species of fish stirring in the river also. Jack crevalle, ladyfish, bluefish, tarpon, and trout will all be found chasing the mullet schools traveling the ICW. Target these fish with a suspending hard bait, soft plastic jerkbaits, or a gold spoon. But for me, the start of fall brings some of our best opportunities for flood fishing! Consult your tide charts to find the days with the highest high tides. On these days, plan to search your favorite grass bank for tailing redfish. During the flood tides redfish and sheepshead will move up into the grass and feed on the snails that are on the grass blades. Bring your wading shoes as anchoring the boat and walking out may be the best approach (remember to do the "stingray shuffle"). Target these fish with a live shrimp, your favorite fly pattern, or a small artificial crab.

Offshore anglers should enjoy a more active bottom bite this month. Grouper will move onto the shallower wrecks and reefs (70 to 90 feet). Triggerfish, black sea bass, and even the occasional lionfish should be available also. Remember when anchored up to free line a live sardine to entice cobia and amberjack that will be lurking around these same areas. Sailfish can be targeted by trolling skirt and ballyhoo combos or kite fishing live bait throughout September also.

A Note of Appreciation

I wanted to take a moment to thank our past President, Chuck Gleichmann for his years of service to the fishing club. I met Chuck at one of the Quick Tips sessions at a club meeting and he was teaching us the right equipment to use and buy and how to tie certain knots. I asked him why we couldn't buy merchandise on the web with the club logo. We had a few lunches together and he asked me to join the board. I must say that Chuck really cares about the members of the club and he continuously had to keep me at bay as to not affect the members or put them in shock with too much change.

Our club has a wide range of people and are some of the best people any of us could be associated with. Everyone on the board has a wealth of knowledge on how to get things done and all the people I have worked with on the board are "Get it done" people. Chuck kept reminding me of that as I came from a technology company which we lived for change when human nature can't stand it.

Chuck has been President off and on for 5 years and I think he was a good leader and got a lot accomplished. The membership for one increased from 150 to over 300 in 3 years and our social media presence and web presence has boomed in the past 2 years.

Under Chuck's leadership we explored Marketing groups and started the long process of formalizing the club's tax status to 501c3 which will allow sponsors and members who contribute to the club to deduct their donations or dues on their taxes.

Chuck is heavily involved with Coastal Conservation Association (CCA) and they help the club in many ways and we help them as well. CCA worked the Classic with us this past weekend and helped capture and release 22 Redfish and Trout to live another day.

I have been chasing Chuck down for the past month so I could give him a token of the board's appreciation in person and just accomplished a face to face meeting with Chuck in order to do so.

Chuck, thanks for your guidance and direction and hope to continue to play golf and fish with you in the coming months.

Chris Christian

Chuck receiving a sculpture of a Redfish from Chris Christian the week after the Classic.

Another member of the board who's term ended this past year was Dana Syens who just finished running the Annual Classic this past weekend. Dana runs her own business CCI which is Commercial Coverages Insurance and I mention that because her company can fill all of our boating insurance needs and personal property as well. CCI is customer oriented and will look after all members of our club. Dana continues to advise the board in various aspects of liability and even insuring your boat dock.

Dana is driven and has helped the club grow our Annual Classic Tournament in many ways and opened my eyes to a lot of opportunity for the future.

Thanks Dana and I look forward to working with you in the future.

He uses artificial bait, surface lures for Kingfish and a wire leader. He marks his spots using navigational equipment where he gets strikes, to go back there in the future. For Tarpon, he targets them by pogie pods and uses pogies, mullet, pinfish or croaker for bait. He invited the members to come up to the front and check out the equipment he uses.
